

Let's Ask Luke-Who is Jesus

Author: Luke, a gentile doctor, who accompanied Paul on his _____.

Audience: the most honorable _____.

Purpose: to compile an orderly _____ of Jesus' life from the original _____ so that followers can know with _____ what they believe in.

Christianity is designed to be _____ from one person to the next.

The Unique Design of Christianity

- For the Critic-Christianity is a _____ religion.
- For the Philosophical-Christianity provides a _____ to the world's problem.
- For the nonreligious-Christianity is _____.

In Jesus, God...

- Is _____ to the poor.
- Provides _____ to the captives.
- _____ the sight for the blind.
- Sets the _____ free.
- Makes us His _____.

Let's Ask Luke-Who is Jesus

Author: Luke, a gentile doctor, who accompanied Paul on his _____.

Audience: the most honorable _____.

Purpose: to compile an orderly _____ of Jesus' life from the original _____ so that followers can know with _____ what they believe in.

Christianity is designed to be _____ from one person to the next.

The Unique Design of Christianity

- For the Critic-Christianity is a _____ religion.
- For the Philosophical-Christianity provides a _____ to the world's problem.
- For the nonreligious-Christianity is _____.

In Jesus, God...

- Is _____ to the poor.
- Provides _____ to the captives.
- _____ the sight for the blind.
- Sets the _____ free.
- Makes us His _____.